

MERIDIAN LABS — OFFER OF EMPLOYMENT

This letter sets out the terms on which Meridian Labs offers you employment. The offer stands for five business days from the date above and is withdrawn after that without further notice.

Your salary is 74,000 dollars a year, paid monthly. Meridian may change the figure at any time on thirty days written notice, and your continued work after that notice is your acceptance of it.

“Confidential Information” means anything you learn here that is not public, and the obligation does not end when your employment does. Indemnification survives termination, and you will cover Meridian’s costs in any claim brought by a third party arising from your work. Notice of resignation is due within 30 days of the date you intend to leave.

Any dispute about this letter goes to binding arbitration in San Mateo County, and you give up the right to bring or join a class action. Meridian may amend the employee handbook, which forms part of these terms, at any time and without asking you first. Conflict of interest rules apply for the whole of your employment and for twelve months after it ends. Nothing in this letter is a promise of employment for any fixed term.
